LOWER TAXES

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges recently called for a cut in taxes as a way to spur business progress and growth. We are in agreement with the former North Carolina Governor, in believing that a reduction in federal income taxes would energize the economy.

One of the disturbing things that confronts us, in the competition between our free enterprise system, and communism, is the fact that in some areas of economic growth, the communists have been moving ahead faster than we have. In increasing their production of steel, coal, electricity, etc., the rate of growth in the Soviet Union has been greater than that in the United States, in many cases.

Every citizen should be concerned about this comparison. The free enterprise system can and must stay ahead of communism, in economic growth. One of the reasons the rate of growth in the United States has been slower than it should have been is the high and discouraging rate of federal income and corporation taxes.

Because of the almost confiscatory rate of taxes, many business men have been discouraged from expanding so vigorously to expand their businesses. A reduction in taxes would tend to right this wrong. It would provide an incentive for expansion.

NOVEMBER DAYS

In U. S. history, November is not one of the most memory - filled months. But it does contain some notable anniversaries, and the traditional and American - originated holiday, Thanksgiving.

The 6th was the birthday of John Phillip Sousa, who was born in 1856. In 1811 the Battle of Tippecanoe was fought and the Kaiser abdicated on November 9, 1918.

Martin Luther was born on November 10, 1483, and November 11th was Armistice Day for many years —that having been the day on which the armistice was signed ending World War I. The 11th, in Washington, is also known as Admissions Day, and the Marines remember the 10th as their "birthday."

Robert Louis Stevenson was born on November 13th, William Pitt was born November 15th, in 1708.

The 21st was the day of the invention of the phonograph, Edison announcing it November 21, 1877. And to go way back, the ship's compass was invented November 21, 1302.

THAT SMILE

As we grow older we learn that we gain a lot when we smile, even during times of stress and strain, and disagreement with others. It costs nothing to smile and the reaction to a smile is almost always contagious.

There is one smile to which we do not refer, and that is the sarcastic or cynical smile, calculated to stir resentment, Other than this one, which is used as a weapon in debate or maneuver, the smile is a wondrous thing—for good.

As we get immeshed in the trivia of life, the bills, the headaches, the pains and disappointments, we tend to develop that frown and a suspicion toward life. And yet, all the wonders and blessings which surround us are ample testimony that we are blessed beyond measure.

The trouble is that we tend to take all our blessings for granted, while dwelling on the day-to-day irritants. Our philosophies must shake off this lethargy. We must start each day with a smile and thanksgiving. We must expect the best, do our best. We must learn, above all, that happiness is a relative state of mind, that we can accomplish through intelligent Christian thought and deed.

KNOW THE WEATHER
By E. H. Sims

Can those suffering from arthritis "feel" the approach of rain?

Quite often the rising humidity that accompanies rain will telegraph the coming of precipitation to the arthritic.

However, this is not an infallible rule. Often the moisture content of the air will rise and rain will not necessarily follow. The arthritic's joints may then ache and give a false forecast of rain.

So the person suffering from arthritis is not a foolproof forecaster of rain. Sometimes he is a foolproof hygrometer, for damp air definitely affects the comfort of many suffering from arthritis.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Makes A "Lot" of Sense

...er day I was driving by ...Thomas' used car lot, ...noticed he'd put up a ...n sign. Trouble was, ...the letters was upside ...So I drove in. "Hey," ...I said, "that's a nice new ...ust one of the letters is ...side up."

..., I know that," laughs ...Matter of fact, I had it ...that way deliberate. Figure...ks were bound to come ...me about it—and it ...I must get four or five ...spects a day."

...he grins down at me, ...way, Joe," he says, "I ...ve you a pretty good ...deal on that car of yours . . ."

From where I sit, "look before you leap" is especially true whenever you start to give advice. Unlike Slim, some folks may not welcome your suggestion—especially about personal tastes! Whether your neighbor takes coffee with his meals, or prefers a glass of beer—that's really his own "business." Giving folks credit for knowing their minds is a good way of keeping friendships "right-side up."
